

Clinical Documentation Integrity

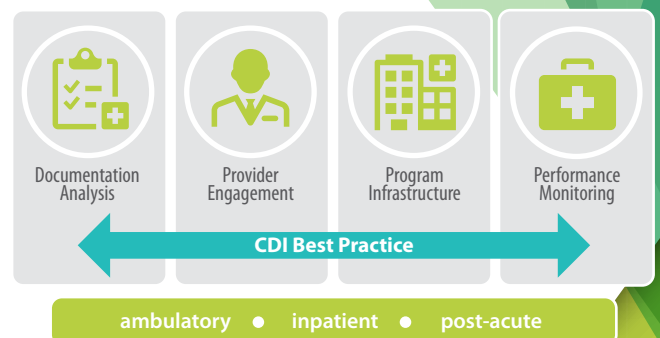

Value-based care and various risk adjustment methodologies impact healthcare organizations' payment and performance in new ways. The acceleration of these payment initiatives requires increased transparency into providers' performance. High quality clinical documentation and accurate coding are imperative. Enjoin's proven clinical documentation integrity (CDI) programs address each client's needs—supporting documentation objectives across varied settings.

Explore the Enjoin Advantage

The biggest barrier to a successful CDI program is often lack of physician engagement. Not so with Enjoin. Our physician-led team bridges the gap between your physicians and your CDI team, ensuring evidence-based care is accurately reflected for value-based reimbursement. Whether inpatient or ambulatory, Enjoin promotes risk-adjusted value-based outcomes through improved documentation and coding.

Our approach is based on four key principles:

- Tailored programs with frequent record reviews to address unique documentation gaps
- Education encompasses all team members involved with documentation: physicians, coders, documentation specialists and care team providers
- Clinically relevant and physician-specific education delivered peer-to-peer, by board-certified physicians
- Data-driven approach with performance monitoring for optimal outcomes and evolving opportunities

Results

For providers that have a strong CDI foundation, Enjoin elevates a traditional CDI program by incorporating the next evolution of CDI processes and best practices. Our advanced CDI[®] program is designed to ensure claims data supports accurate value-based outcomes - essential to your CDI program.

Ongoing education, reporting and process improvement enhance the level of cooperation among all parties involved with the documentation and coding of patients' records. With Enjoin, clinical complexity becomes clear, improving financial performance, risk adjustment and quality outcomes.

“Enjoin has been instrumental in helping us achieve very high-quality inpatient coding and MS-DRG assignment, as well as improving clinical documentation, for more than 15 years.
